A Hole In The Pension Umbrella

An editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association, which appears in the pension umbrella, has been raised over an aging population by the federal government during the past two decades. That gaping hole affects all employed people—professional men, merchants, independent salesmen and the rest.

Back in 1942, Congress provided for a system whereby employees' contributions to pension funds would be considered business expenses, if the particular plan was approved by the federal government. That system, however, was not a permanent provision but a temporary measure to help the self-employed.

Another of these temporary measures was the all-day home-coming occasion last Sunday at the church.

Dan J. Parrish Funeral

Funeral services for Dan J. Parrish, 68, who died in Statesboro Thursday, June 10th, were held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon from Anderson Church near Manassas, conducted by Rev. John Denmark. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Parrish is survived by one daughter, one son, five sisters, three brothers and several nieces and nephews.

Barnes Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

CANNON REUNION JULY 3 AT MIDDLEGROUND SCHOOL

All relatives and friends of the Cannon family are invited to a family reunion at Middleground school, near Statesboro, on Sunday, July 3.

All descendants of the Cannons, who came to Bulloch County more than 60 years ago, are invited to be present and bring a basket lunch. They expect to make this an annual event.

AT SUMMER CAMP

The Portals P.E.A. Boys and Girls left Monday to spend a week at Summer Camp at Lake Jackson. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bill Bowen, Miss Evelyn Hart and Miss Jewell Hart.

The purpose is to encourage, but not compel, savings for retirement by self-employed persons, and also by employed persons who have no other source of income.

Some Rabid Dogs May Not Bite

Not all rabid dogs bite, nor are all biting dogs rabid. That's the substance of a report from the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Some cases of rabies are of the "dumb" type, contrasted with the "furious" type. A dog with the dumb type usually will not bite unless disturbed.

As a practical safeguard against rabies, the AVMA urges vaccination. If a dog has been properly immunized, its bite victims usually do not have to worry about rabies.

The big danger, the AVMA points out, is by bites from stray dogs and unvaccinated pets that have been exposed to the disease.

Past records indicate, about 16 per cent of all persons bitten by rabid animals will get the disease unless the Pasteur treatment is given in time.

The Association explains that there is no sure way of telling from a person's actions whether a dog has rabies. Positive diagnosis can be made only by autopsy and laboratory tests.

Prompt veterinary attention is necessary to prevent rabies or irritated skin areas in dogs from spreading. These irritations usually begin on the dog's back near the base of the tail.

That our properly designed ponds are not over-designed for safety is a fact. The county forest ranger reports that the county has a record of 100 percent in reforestation.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

162 HP V8

180 HP V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder... and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire")... and pull the trigger! Bar-r-r-r-o-o-o-OOM! Mister, you got you a flat mountain!

... At least it feels flat. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo... built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, purring out a fraction of their strength. An engineer can understand why they are so hyper-efficient. But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in and try one out!

URGES BETTER PUBLIC RELATIONS

Greater Emphasis Needed In Developing Better Understanding Agriculture

Farm Bureau chapter leaders on the community and county levels today were advised to place greater emphasis on developing a better public relations program for Agriculture.

Mrs. Troy Rucker, State Chairman, Georgia Farm Bureau Women, in urging a public relations program for agriculture on the local level said, "We as farmers through Farm Bureau have no apologies to make that our purpose is to maintain a high standard of living for Agriculture, and we believe that when farmers prosper, the whole nation benefits."

The State Farm Bureau had explained, "Farm Bureau has had a part in making it possible for the people of America to enjoy the high standard of living that has been accepted as their inalienable right."

"The farmer is a business man and a consumer," Mrs. Rucker added. "In 1953, the farmer and his business created $11 billion of more in new wealth; his harvests are a major source of new wealth created and manufactured in thousands of towns, villages, and communities across the nation."

The State Farm Bureau Women's Chairman in outlining a four-point program advised Farm Bureau men and women: (1) Every County Farm Bureau should
